HATED

Had a friend once made the following remarks to Governor Respect Elm: "I have seen there a great deal of good men, but I have never seen a better man than you." He was Hadshi, a Kurd, a man of great energy and of the most perfect of the world. He was a man of great energy and of the most perfect of the world. He was a man of great energy and of the most perfect of the world.

Almost countless are the anecdotes told of the pasha, who was known and respected from the Turkish Dan to the Turkish Bosphorus. His hatred of the "Christian dogs," as he always called the people of the west, was boundless. It was invariably his custom, when force of circumstances obliged him to give his hand to a "dog," to wash it upon withdrawal while in the presence of his guest. It is said that Hadshi Izet had made his habit only once.

One day a consul of one of the greatest European countries was obliged to seek an audience with the sultan's lieutenant in governmental affairs. He had already been insulted once by the pasha's waiting hands after the greeting and determined that he should not be so treated a second time if he could possibly prevent it. The consul was a thorough master of the Turkish tongue, and for this reason had a great advantage over many of his colleagues.

When the servant of Hadshi Izet received him at the palace threshold, he spoke as follows in a voice which he knew would reach the ears of the governor in his office near by: "Go and tell thy master that I wish to speak to him. Say to him that I shall also do him the honor to give him my hand, but shall crack my hat over his ears if he attempts to wash his hands after shaking mine."

The servant started away to announce the visitor to his master. But the governor had already heard the message and came, trailing toward the daring consul. While he placed his right hand in that of the foreign representative he said: "That was right. You please me, offend. You at least have courage."

The consul was not washed until the consul had left the palace.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Children Cry for Pitcher's

Ceylon Tea.

It appears that some of the Ceylon tea planters are making an organized attempt to obtain a sale for their tea in the London market. A parcel of seven bags of that article was offered at the drug sales recently, but no one seemed to know what to do with it, and although the bidder declared his belief that the drug was "a favorite medicine in China," the audience remained unmoved. Nevertheless, the tea was bought by a man who was purchasing for the sake of the tea, and he paid for it by a check of about $5 per cent by weight, and which resembles olive oil in color and some in taste. The seeds are about the size of a cherry stone, subglobular in shape and of a deep brown color. The oil would be useful for burning or lubricating.—London Chemist and Druggist.

Branding Criminals in China. Finding that long terms of imprisonment and flogging do not check robbery and piracy and systematic practice of thievery in the Sze-chow district, the authorities have resolved to try branding. For the first offense the thief is to be branded on the right cheek, and for the second on the left cheek. The brand is to be the Chinese sign for the word thief. As the Chinese have a superstitious horror of all facial disfigurement, the belief is entertained that the new punishment will check the criminal element. —Sacramento Record-Union.

THE GOLDBUG COMBINE.

Congressman Bland of Missouri, chairman of the committee on Coinage, reported a bill to the House which provides for the coinage of the seigniorage on the silver bullion in the Treasury, which amounts to about $55,000,000. The object of the bill is to get a part of bullion now lying useless in the Treasury coined into silver dollars and put it in circulation by using it to pay a part of the Government expenditures. This would save the Government the issue of $55,000,000 bonds and it would increase the currency to that amount, which the issue of bonds will not do.

As this is exactly what the Wall Street combination does not want done the administration forces and their Republican allies in the House are doing all in their power to prevent the passage of the bill. Harter and Tracey and their Democratic retainers, and Reed and Burrows and their followers, combine to break a quorum by refusing to answer to their names when there is a roll call of the House. Of the one hundred and sixty-two members who voted with Bland on a motion to close the debate and put the bill on its final passage only eight were Republicans, namely, Bowers, Broderick, Doolittle, Tunstun, Marsh, Herrmann, Post and Sweet, and 144 were Democrats and nine Populists.

How in the face of such a showing can Republicans or Democrats say that their parties are in anyway favorable to silver. Possibly the Bland bill may pass, as many Democrats and a few Republicans are afraid of their constituents and may vote for it, as Wall Street influence is not potent with the masses of the people in the South and West, but every possible obstacle is being put in the way of its passage by the goldbug combination.

AGAINST LOTTERIES.

Senator Hoar of Massachusetts has introduced a bill for the suppression of lotteries, raffles and gift enterprises. The bill makes it a felony, punishable by a fine of $1,000 or two years' imprisonment, or both, for any person to contrive or to propose a lottery, sell lottery tickets or deposit them in the mails within the United States, or so that they may be bought in the United States.

As the United States Government can only prevent lotteries from being established in the Territories and exclude lottery tickets from the mails, acts of Congress do not deter the Louisiana Lottery Company from endeavoring to get a foothold in some other State. As the charter granted the company by the Carpeting Government of Louisiana twenty years ago has expired, the company has temporarily removed its principal office to Honolulu, but is using money and influence to get a charter in Florida.

IN FAVOR OF FREE COINAGE.

The Transmississippi Commercial Congress took a decisive stand on the free coinage question. The Committee on Resolutions reported the following: Resolved, That we recommend the reopening of the mints to the coinage of silver on the same terms that they are now open to the coinage of gold and at the ratio of 16 to 1.

This report was received with loud and continued cheering and its adoption was immediately moved and seconded. Several speeches were made and the resolution was adopted and the Congress stands committed to free coinage.

As the Congress was composed of five or six hundred delegates, representative men of the States and Territories west of the Missouri, its decision on the silver question ought to have a good effect on the National Congress at Washington. It is difficult, however, to convince the goldbug of the error of his ways and it is feared that the resolution will make no impression on the Wall Street combination.

It has been decided by the French Civil Chamber that the courts in France are incompetent to try the suit of the Princess Colonna against her husband for a legal separation and the custody of her children. The Chambers made an order, however, giving the children provisionally into the custody of their father. As the Princess and her children are in New York, it will be difficult for the dissolute Prince to get control of the children.

Counsel for Prince Colonna say he is determined to gain possession of his children and will take the necessary steps to do so.

The House Committee on Public Lands has decided to report favorably the bill to determine the title to mining lands within the limits of railroad grants. The bill provides for the examination and classification of lands within the grants and the rejection of all railroad claims to mineral lands, exclusive of coal and iron.

The assignee of ex-Secretary Charles Foster has published a statement which shows that the liabilities of Foster & Co. were $790,201 and the assets $38,592. The real value of the assets is $33,310.85. Charles Foster's liabilities are placed at $198,773 and his net assets $115,490.

The report of the Southern Pacific Company for the year ending December 31, 1893, shows gross earnings of $18,049,513, a decrease of $922,648; net $17,473,234, decrease $910,695; surplus $1,042,007, decrease $617,641.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Bland Seigniorage Bill Having Trouble.

WASHINGTON, February 17.—Wheeler moved non-concurrence in the Senate amendment to the Oklahoma railroad townsight bill, to effect the elections held in the counties of L and O within thirty days to fix the location of the county seats of those counties. Hopkins of Illinois moved to concur. A spirited debate followed.

The House is without a quorum on the Bland seigniorage bill, and the tactics of yesterday were resumed.

After further debate Wheeler demanded the previous question on his motion to non-concur. Without division it was ordered.

After some routine business the fight over the silver seigniorage bill was resumed.

Bland moved to go into Committee of the Whole on the bill, and pending that motion moved that the debate be limited to half an hour.

The Republican and Democratic opponents of the measure repeated the tactics of yesterday and refrained from voting.

Again the motion was defeated by a vote of 157 to 3, for the lack of a quorum, there being 19 short.

Bland moved a call of the House. The call developed the presence of a quorum.

By special order, the remainder of the afternoon was devoted to eulogies upon the late representative William Willey of Pennsylvania.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies the House adjourned.

MR. NEWLANDS POLITICS.

He is a Representative of the Silver Party and Begs to be Characterized as Such Only.

Following is the full text of Congressman Newlands' letter defining his political position, the greater part of which was published in the JOURNAL about two weeks ago. It was received from Washington yesterday with a request to give it publication:

EDITOR POST.—I observe in Friday's issue of your paper the statement that all the Populists voted for the Wilson bill except Newlands, of Nevada. As I have been frequently referred to by the press as a Populist will you permit me the use of your columns to say that I am not a member of the Populist party?

The people of Nevada recognizing the fact that both the Democratic and Republican parties were insincere in their professions regarding silver, and that the Populist party, while sincere on the silver question, was so wedded to impractical theories that it was impossible for it to succeed, determined to form an independent political organization of their own called the Silver party. Their immediate hope was that, with the aid of the other mining States and with the aid of the agricultural States likely to be carried by the Populist party, a sufficient number of independent electors, devoted to the silver issue, would be elected to the electoral college to secure the balance of power, and thus force in that college the selection of a President, either a Democrat or Republican, who would sign or at least not oppose a free coinage bill. Their ultimate expectation was either that the Republican party would again become a national party instead of a sectional party, devoted only to the interests of the New England and Middle States as manufacturing or creditor States; or that the Democratic party, rejecting farther alliance with New York, which thus far has enabled that State to control its financial action to its lasting disgrace, would pursue a policy which would unite the South with the West on issues which would constitute a common bond of sympathy; or that a third party, whether under the name of People's party or some new name, presenting to the people but two issues, namely, freedom from financial dependence upon England and other foreign countries, would, under wise and patriotic leadership, be organized for victory.

On these lines the Mining Congress at Helena, Montana, declared itself, on these lines the Bimetallist League of America has practically acted, and on these lines the Silver party of Nevada, of which I am the Representative in Congress, is organized. I do not regard it as a permanent party organization, but simply as that form of organization which should be maintained, at least in every mining State, until either one of the old parties comes to its senses or the Populist party learns wisdom, or a new national party is organized, which every true American who believes in his country and that it should have a financial and industrial policy of its own, can join.

Adversity, which long since taught the silver miner of the mountain region, the farmers of the West, and the planters of the South that the appreciation of gold, resulting from the gradual demonetization of silver, was the chief cause of the fall in prices, and the prevailing industrial and commercial distress of the world, is now teaching the creditor section of our country that, while the destruction as a money metal of the only competitor which gold has had has increased the purchasing power of money, it has also diminished its earning power. The defaulting of bonds, the inability of owners of credits to collect their interest, the dearth of profitable employment for money all prove that we cannot cut off one of the natural sources of money supply and limit the natural increase of the volume of money without affecting all industries, and that, owing to the consequent stagnation of enterprise and destruction of industry, the business of money lending, though the last to suffer, must bear the burden equally with the rest.

Misfortune is a hard teacher of the principles of political economy and monetary science, and though it is to be regretted that the world has to suffer so much in order to learn a lesson which quick intelligence should have anticipated, yet the lesson must and will be learned.

Until then and until some great national party, having learned the lesson, shall have the courage and the wisdom to make the silver question its chief issue, I must beg you to characterize me only as a member of the Silver party of Nevada.

Very sincerely yours,

FRANCIS G. NEWLANDS.
CHEY CHASE, Md., February 3.

THE SNOW SLEDS.

What It Cost to Build the Galleries Across the Sierras.

During the last storm snow fell as far west as Auburn, Cal., which is something unusual, says the Silver State. At Towle's station, east of Alta, there was a fall of fifteen inches. On the summit six feet were piled up, which makes the total depth there about fourteen feet. The snow galleries along the line of the Central Pacific are completely shut out from daylight for several miles west of the summit of the Sierra range, and without them there would be no possibility of keeping the line clear for travel with the present depth.

These galleries cover the track the entire length of the snow belt—a distance of forty-five miles, extending in an almost unbroken line from a short distance west of Truckee to Shady Run station, four miles east of Alta. A pine forest, with an area of over ten square miles, was felled to furnish timber for their construction.

The cost per mile of these structures was about $46,000, except across the summit, where three miles of the galleries cost $90,000 per mile. These galleries are built of huge timbers bolted to the granite rocks, and are of a strength sufficient to withstand the shock of the avalanches that sweep over them when the snow begins melting in the spring. In their descent to the bottom of the deep ravines below these avalanches sweep everything in their path, lofty pines that have withstood the storms of centuries being carried along with the moving mass.

When the project of erecting these snow galleries was first suggested it was declared impracticable, but without them traffic would be suspended nearly every winter over that part of snow belt protected by them.

Saved Her Life.

Mrs. O. J. Woolbridge, of Waltham, Texas, saved the life of her child by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

"One of my children had Croup. The case was attended by our physician, and was supposed to be well under control. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it struggling. It had nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicine given, I resorted to such remedies as I had at my disposal. Having part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously waited results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and, in a short time, she was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved her life."

Great Men Will Differ.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—My attention is attracted to the following:

"Charles A. Dana, whose opinions of parties and men are expressed without fear or favor, says in the New York Sun:

"So much for the Populist members. There is not an idle man among them. They are always in their seats and their names are found recorded upon nearly every roll call. They are not obstructionists nor cranks, but men who seem to have become convinced that the welfare of the nation requires the services of a new political party, and that they found and formed a party to meet the exigency. That it has found many hearers was shown by their wonderful convention in Omaha in 1892, in their casting over a million votes and getting over twenty electoral votes in their first campaign, a new step in a national election. No one in the Populist party need be ashamed, but instead can be proud of their representatives in Congress."

Very likely, however, if Mr. Dana was running a one-horse daily in Reno he would know better. New York is too far from Reno to ever amount to much.

Do Not Agree.

It looks to a man up a tree as though it must be highly discouraging for the followers of the high tariff wing of the Goldbug party in their efforts to convince the local unsophisticated that the Republican party is "for silver," to have the telegraphic dispatches from Washington report each day that "Bland was unable to get his seigniorage bill considered by reason of filibustering on the part of the Republicans and opposition Democrats."

Until this sort of Congressional contradiction is over, if suggestions are in order, would it not be a good plan, gentlemen, to declare a recess.

Niece Bobo Dying.

Deputy Constable H. R. Campbell came down from Carson City last night where he went after the Indian Metse Bobo who stabbed "Dexter." He reported that Metse Bobo was also stabbed in the affray and is likely to die. He was in such condition that he was considered too badly used up to bring down and so the officer returned without him.

The Lux heirs contend that Miller, as the surviving partner of the big firm, should be compelled to give an accounting.

THE "MIDWINTER APPEAL."

It is Printed Under a Shotgun Guard.

The Midwinter Fair Commissioners have ordered Sam Davis, publisher of the Midwinter Appeal, to remove his type and machinery from the '49 camp on the ground that it interferes with a prior concession granted the Co-operative Printing Company, which holds the exclusive right to print a paper on the ground.

Davis has located a mining claim in the camp and placed shotgun guards on it, claiming the right to the mining laws of California. Miners in the camp claim they can show a mineral ledge by mining into Strawberry Hill.

AND THE BAND WILL PLAY ANNIE LAURIE.

The Next Theatrical Event Which Everyone Should Attend.

We take pleasure in announcing that on next Saturday evening at McKissick's Opera House, amidst strains of inspiring music from the brass band, three State officers, five lawyers, one doctor, one land agent and one non-partisan statesman will collectively and severally attempt the grand and wonderful acrobatic feat of explaining why the g. o. p. which is now in Congress solidly trying to prevent even the Bland Seigniorage bill from getting consideration or even coming to a vote, is nevertheless for silver, absolutely, relatively and irrevocably. Everybody should attend this performance as no other troupe on the road this season has so many performers and specialists in the difficult and lofty art of political contortioning. It is the special request of the advance agent, however, that all who attend come prepared to place implicit credence in all statements made by the performers, as the failure to preserve the proper passivity of intellect will result in the missing by the derelict one of the essential features of the performance.

During the entertainment there will be flights of oratory upon the past history of the g. o. p. which will thrill the audience into convulsions. There will likewise be presented, without extra charge, a view of Hades, alias "the United States after the passage of the Wilson bill" which is expected to bring many to the anxious seat and lead ultimately to wholesale conversions.

The "pauper labor of Europe" will be used as the "punching bag" for the champion heavy-weights to exercise upon and will be introduced upon all possible occasions.

The company beg leave to declare that they have invented a new and wonderful automatic "pointing with pride," and also a statistical machine to manufacture all the necessary facts and figures used by the speakers on the spot. Both are patented.

"The poor laboring man" will be brought out every few minutes during the performance, each time being bedewed with not less than six tears, which are guaranteed to be wet.

The management further desire to announce that no objectionable characters will be introduced by the speakers and therefore they will refrain from enlogizing the great Republican head master, John Sherman, and will not mention the fact that Thomas B. Reed, William McKinley, Benjamin Harrison, Chauncey Depew, Andrew Carnegie and all the other great Republican leaders are unfortunately goldbugs.

A stuffed man labeled the "Democratic party" will be every few moments yanked in by the slack of the trousers, pounded, tomahawked, scalped, wiped on the floor, sat on and massacred in the presence of the audience with great ferocity, and everyone is especially requested to believe that this part is real, being necessary in order to insure the success of the piece. After each round the ushers will take the "Democratic party" out, bind up his gaping wounds, give him a drink and thus prepare him for the next heat.

At the close there will be three cheers for the g. o. p. and the band will then play "Annie Laurie." Come one, come all.

Died of Paralysis of the Heart.

The following verdict was yesterday rendered by the Coroner's jury in the matter of the death of Dr. C. J. Mullen:

A FINE ENTERTAINMENT.

The North Truckee School to Have a Library.

Friday night the young people of North Truckee gave a theatrical, at the school house, for the purpose of raising money for a library. The drama "Among the Breakers" was presented. It was a great success, both financially and artistically. There were between eighty and ninety present, including a large number from Reno. The following was the cast of characters:

David Murry, Keeper of the Fairpoint Light
Larry Divine, his assistant
Peter Paragraph, a newspaper reporter
Honorable Bruce Hunter
Clarence Hunter, his ward
Sond, Hunter's colored servant
Miss Minnie Daze, Hunter's niece
Bess Starbright, cast up by the waves
Mrs. James Kason
Miss Jessie Shields
Mother Cary, a reputed fortune teller
Biddy Bean, an Irish girl
Miss Bessie Gault

Each one sustained their part exceptionally well for amateurs. Some of them had never appeared in public before and the ability they showed was remarkable.

James Gault, as a colored boy, caused roars of laughter by his many pranks. He would have been a credit as a professional, in fact he could not have been surpassed.

Miss Frances Frey, in the rendition of her part, deserves high praise. As "Mother Cary the fortune teller," she could not have been excelled. Mr. T. Sadler as leading man sustained his character well. His villainy was shown in every look and action. Miss Bessie Gault and Mr. P. Conroy deserve mention also as being exceptionally good. Messrs. J. Eason and Miss Bessie Shields each won credit for themselves. The evening's entertainment closed with a laughable farce entitled "Sallie Perkins' Night Lodging."

Mr. William Fraser, as landlord, proved himself to be as good at that business as at ranching. He was certainly able to make the best of his room by stowing away the "Dauchman," the "Irishman," the "Negro" and the "Deaf Old Woman." Mr. J. McCormick of Boca favored the audience with several violin solos.

A LOOKERON.

THE SPELLING CONTEST.

Herbert Maxson Wins First Prize and Miss Mabel Stanaway the Second.

There was a large crowd at the Congregational Church last evening to witness the spelling contest.

Rev. T. Magill presided and Mr. L. D. Folsom and Captain Fred Frey acted as judges.

About twenty contestants stood up in a row and had fired at them a thousand or more words from alphabet to promissory. Four went down on opinion, one on avium, two on accomodate, one each on havoc, etiquette, comparison, caret, brigadier, missile, plagiarism and leech, three on merino, one each on car, caucus and brief, Bert Cunningham accidentally tripping on the latter after spelling a large number of difficult words. This left Miss Mabel Stanaway of the N. S. U. and Mr. Herbert Maxson of the Commercial Department, the sole contestants.

After a brilliant defense against Mr. Magill's running fire of words Miss Mabel tripped on promissory, and Maxson spelling it was declared the victor. He received the first prize of $5, and Miss Stanaway the second of $2.50.

A good idea is involved in the contest—the direction of more attention to spelling. The affair was a decided success. Professor Bray contemplates giving a contest for prizes some evening in the near future.

The Hard Times Ball.

The hard times ball on the 22d inst. bids fair to be the most enjoyable event of the season. Arrangements have been made whereby visitors from Virginia City will be granted half fare, and quite a number from the Comstock have signified their intention of attending. The prize to be awarded the homeliest man is the only one so far for which there has yet appeared no competitors.

Broke His Wrist.

Yesterday morning about 10 o'clock, Fred Cornelison, a nephew of A. H. ## KINDERGARTEN SCHOOL.

The Law Authorizes School Boards in Cities or Towns to Establish Them.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—SM:—In answer to your correspondent of this morning, it may be said that the law seems to give the school boards in cities or towns having a certain population the right to establish kindergarten schools, leaving to their discretion the determination of the age of those that may attend.

As to what the law in this matter ought to be there can hardly be a difference of opinion. The child, from the period when he begins to talk, is always capable of learning, is always learning. There can be no arbitrary period fixed as to the age when the school district can best care for him—it would differ in different children. In some it might be at the age of five years—in some earlier and in still others later. But undoubtedly it should care for the child educationally whenever it can do so to better advantage than the parent. That is the theory of public education.

That the Froebel of kindergarten system of education furnishes the best foundation for public school education, all people who know about it, admit. That it has materially improved the public schools wherever fairly and generally tried, is also a matter of history. Progressive schools all over the country are adopting the system and everywhere when tried it has met with public approval.

If Reno can have it, why shall she not have it? Respectfully,

RENO, Feb. 17, 1894. A PARENT.

UNIVERSITY NOTES.

Items of Interest Gleaned From the "Student Record."

Fredrick Stadtmuller, '92, is in charge of the chemical department of the Experiment Station during the absence of Professor Wilson.

Thomas Butterly, Com. '91, is pursuing a special course of study at the "Varsity." He will take an examination for West Point the first of next month.

Upon making the first clean-up in the quartz mill it was found that nearly ninety-seven per cent. of the gold and silver contained in the ore was obtained. This speaks well for the work done.

Lieutenant Neall's term of office as Military Instructor of the University will expire the first of next November. The following officers have applied for the position: 1st Lieutenant Ducat, 24th Infantry, Fort Bayard; New Mexico; 1st Lieutenant Hatch, 18th Infantry, Fort Ringgold, Texas; 2d Lieutenant Haan, 5th Artillery, Presidio, San Francisco; 2d Lieutenant Stockle, 9th Cavalry. Lieutenant Stockle has, since making application, been detailed as Military Instructor at Pullman, Washington.

AN ACTRESS' SUICIDE.

She Follows the Footsteps of Her Lover.

In San Francisco Thursday afternoon Mae Brooklyn, leading lady of the A. M. Palmer Company, which is playing at the Baldwin theater, and one of the most beautiful and talented actresses on the American stage, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid.

The cause of the act was melancholia, superinduced by the suicide, some months ago, of the man to whom she was to have been married. She elected to cross the silent river in the same manner as her lover and chose the friend was Madeline Bouton, well known in this city as Lillian Bouton, to whom she gave the larger part of her effects, scrawling upon an envelope in her dying moments when she could not speak, by reasons of the burns upon her lips and throat made by the terrible acid, the words, "Give my clothes to Boutons," her pet name for Miss Bouton.

Her death is sincerely deplored by the theatrical world who looked to her to become one of the most famous in her profession.

Ventilation.
Not the politicians sort, but fresh air you need. Health and comfort often suffer for this kind of ventilation. Never sleep in a poorly ventilated room. You'll wake up unrefreshed, out of sorts and bilious. Perhaps you can't improve the ventilation, but you can take Simmon's Liver Regulator for that torpid liver, to keep it active against the ill effects of a close atmosphere which causes that languid feeling.

I felt tired all the time; had frequent headaches, and spells of dizziness; I had no appetite, and what little I did eat, distressed me terribly. My wife was feeling about the same. I went to the drug store, and called for Hood's Sarsaparilla. The druggist said he was out of Hood's, but that he could give me a medicine made from about the same formula, just as good. I bought a bottle and carried it home, and wife and I took it faithfully. That bottle was finished and we could see no improvement. A second and then a third bottle followed, when my wife declared she would take it no longer, as she believed she felt worse than she did before taking it. We put the third bottle away half full; and I went to the drug-store and got a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and a box of Hood's Pills. In less than a week
